Dear Aston Martin Hiring Team,

I am so excited to apply for the Management Systems Engineer Graduate position at Aston Martin. As a student who has always been amazed by your legendary cars and history, I can't wait to put all my time, energy, and love into helping your company keep succeeding.

Your motto, "For the love of beautiful," really speaks to me. It shows how much care and skill your team puts into every single car you make. I am inspired by how your people never stop trying to make the best cars possible while also being safe and good for the environment.

In my studies at the University of East Anglia, I've learned a lot about managing projects, working in teams, and solving problems. I've led software projects for communities in different countries, which taught me how to explain tricky ideas to all kinds of people. Furthermore, I am a coxswain for my university rowing club, where I assist by micromanaging water sessions, steering, reinforcing proper techniques, and providing positive feedback. My efforts as a coxswain led our novice women's 8+ boat to achieve an impressive 4th place at BUCS 2024, a first for UEA. This hobby of mine not only teaches me how to handle challenges every day, but also has made me a better coach and a leader to my crew.

In my free time I love to study and to prepare for the job search I have finished the Google Project Management course in under one month, which shows how quickly I can learn new things when I'm determined.

I'm so excited about diving into Aston Martin's world of quality control, audits, and making things better. I want to pour my heart into helping write your next amazing chapter, working with a team that loves being the best as much as I do. I think my technical skills, love for making things better, and talent for working with others make me a great fit for this job.

One of the best things about being a leader is seeing people relax when they know someone is there to help organize everything. I want to be that person for Aston Martin, making sure everyone feels supported and excited to reach our goals together.

Thank you for reading my application. I would be honoured to talk about how I can help Aston Martin keep making the most beautiful and incredible cars in the world.

Sincerely,
Yeva Yesypenko
